VICTORY CLAIMS IN SEA WARFARE DISPUTED

ADMIRALTY ADMITS DESTROYER DAMAGED IN ENGLISH CHANNEL

Battle Between British and German Warships Brings Conflicting Reports of Results, While in 33-day-Old Balkan Area Confirmation Is Received That Greeks Are in Possession of Pogradetz, Italy's Stronghold In West, Thirty Miles Inside Albania; Teeming Port of England Suffers Terrific Assault

R. A. F. NIGHT BOMBERS RAID MANY IMPORTANT INDUSTRIAL AND NAVAL BASES IN THE REICH

By The Associated Press

German anxiety over Italy's buffeting in the war with Greece, linked with growing British control in the Mediterranean, was reflected in Berlin dispatches today as German and British destroyers clashed in the English Channel.

Closely-connected reports from the belligerent capitals gave this picture:

London—Admiralty reports indicated that Britain has launched a broad offensive to sweep the Mediterranean clear of Italy's war fleet and strike at Italy as the "Achilles heel" of the Rome-Berlin Axis. Berlin—Germany's smashing new air attacks on England, beginning with Coventry two weeks ago, aroused neutral speculation that the Nazi aerial blows may be calculated to compel withdrawal of British planes from the Mediterranean—thus relieving painful pressure on Hitler's Axis partner.

Today's destroyer battle in the English Channel—in which German warships boldly challenged the English in an attack near the British shore—may also have been aimed at forcing the transfer of ships from Britain's Mediterranean fleet to protect the Island Kingdom itself.

In the 33-day-old Balkan war, Premier Mussolini's ill-starred campaign took another setback when it was established that the Greeks have captured Pogradetz, Italy's stronghold 30 miles inside Albania. An Associated Press correspondent with the Greek armies, sent out the first on-the-spot verification of Pogradetz' fall, writing his dispatch on a typewriter abandoned by an Italian officer.

England's teeming port of Liverpool, on the Irish Channel, suffered a terrific night assault in which the Germans said hundreds of Nazi bombers set fire visible for many miles. In the battle of destroyers, the London Admiralty acknowledged that a British ship was hit, but asserted that "the enemy units retired at high speed" toward Brest, on the Nazi-held French coast, and that "damage was inflicted on the enemy."

The furious assault on Liverpool—striking at waterfront warehouses, docks, grain silos and oil stores—added another to the lengthening list of British ports bombed recently, among them Bristol, Plymouth and Southampton.

Britain's chief western port, Liverpool, is the shipping center of the densely-populated industrial Midlands and a vital artery for sea-borne supplies to the island kingdom.

While Londoners underwent their 1,000th hour under air-raid alarm, with German raiders slapping sporadically at the empire capital again by daylight, the London Daily Mail raised the suggestion that a new "mystery weapon" is being tried out against Nazi night bombers.

Up to noon London had three daylight alarms.

British night bombers were busy, too, pounding the Germans in wide-spread raids that included naval yards at Stettin, a synthetic oil plant at Pohlitz, the port of Cuxhaven, Mainz, Koblenz, Emden, Dusseldorf, Mannheim and the "Invasion" ports of Antwerp, Boulogne and Le Havre.

In the Greek-Italian war Premier Mussolini's High Command reported that three divisions (60,000 men) of the Fascist 11th army "counter-attacked and broke off" Greek attempts to slash through the Italian lines. The scene was not given.

With their land armies faltering, the Italians threw an armada of 300 planes into the conflict, bombing centers of communication and Greek lines, but Athens dispatches said the Greeks were pressing ever deeper into Albania despite fierce resistance.

The British press played up in bold headlines the Admiralty announcement of Britain's own offensive blows on the fleet of Germany's war partner—Italy.

In a running fight west of the Italian island of Sardinia Wednesday afternoon one new Italian battleship of the 35,000-ton Littorio class was sunk.

Pennsylvania Swings Into Christmas Buying With Turkey Hash Being Order of the Day

By The Associated Press

Turkey hash and warmed-over stuffing topped the menu in Pennsylvania today as the state swung into the rush of the Christmas buying season.

Snow and ice hampered the observance of the state's "official" Thanksgiving day yesterday in many sections. In others a freezing wind kept down crowds at traditional sports events.

The day Governor James fixed a week later than the one from six to 12 inches in depth.

MANY HOMELESS AFTER BOMBING AT LIVERPOOL

Liverpool, England, Nov. 29—

(AP)—Relief workers provided food and shelter today for many families bombed out of their homes overnight in the worst German air assault on the Merseyside.

Many homes were demolished but relief work began even while the bombs were falling and most of the homeless were fed and established in new quarters while the raid still was in progress.

Wave after wave of raiders swept inland from the Irish sea and spread over the northwest area.

At several points in Liverpool rescue workers dug in wreckage for victims trapped in their bombed homes. A number of persons were believed buried under tons of debris in one place. Two persons were killed in a direct hit on one public shelter.

In many streets there was not a window left intact in buildings and residences.

One district of Liverpool which was heavily attacked in the first days of the concentrated attacks on the Merseyside area was most seriously damaged.

Air raid protection officials said many persons would be transferred from this area to accommodations elsewhere because of damage to their homes.

A police station, a movie theater and a public house were damaged.

PLUNGER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Jesse L. Livermore who Won and Lost Fortunes, Any of Them Beyond the Reach of Better-Than-Average Man, Commits Suicide In New York Hotel After Penning Note Admitting That "He Had Been a Failure"

FIRST EXPLOIT WINS HIM $3,000,000 STAKE

By ROBERT D. PRICE

New York, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Jesse L. Livermore won and lost four fortunes, any of them beyond the reach of better-than-average men; his wizardry was a Wall Street legend; but yesterday he wrote, "I am a failure" and ended his own life.

"I am tired of fighting. I can't go on." Thus a weary, 62-year-old man penned his own epitaph in a little leather-bound notebook, sought out a quiet corner in an ante-room at the fashionable Sherry-Netherland hotel, and fired a pistol bullet into his head.

Livermore was known as the "boy plunger" ever since his first stock market exploit won him $3,000,000 back in 1907. He had other grandiose cognomens too—"Wizard of Wall Street," "The Cotton King." But at the end, it was simply "Laurie" writing in his notebook.

"Laurie" is a contraction of his middle name, Lauriston. "Nina" is his own name for his third wife, the former Harriet Metz Noble.

COMPROMISE IN ALUMINUM MILL LABOR DISPUTE

New Kensington, Nov. 29.—(AP)

—Work on large defense orders at the principal plant of the Aluminum Company of America resumed today after a compromise settlement of a CIO strike—over a $312 union dues dispute—that cost 7,500 employees $250,000 in wages through week's idleness.

The CIO Aluminum Workers Union, claiming that an irresponsible sheet mill worker had threatened the life of a union agent demanding that he pay up $12 in back dues, called the strike when the company turned down the union's request that the worker be discharged.

The company, stating that it had "nothing to do with the collection of union dues" and describing the union's complaint against the unidentified worker as "unjustified," also refused the union's subsequent demand that the man be transferred out of the union's bargaining unit.

Under the compromise approved last night, the man remains with the company.

Correspondents Fail In Guessing Contest

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)—More than 100 newspapermen failed in a guessing game at the White House press conference today.

Their eyes lit on a statue in the president's office of a man with hat tilted back and sleeves rolled up as if to engage in a good old fashioned scrap. One wanted to know if it represented the "loyal opposition," despite its caption "I'm a Democrat."

The president "nearly provoked" the answer amid laughter when he said it was presented to him by a Texan, that it was the work of a Mexican artist in San Antonio, and that it was the artist's conception of a fightin' Irish Democrat.

HIGHER TAXES TO BE CONSIDERED AT WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt and Seven Administration Financial Experts to Discuss Preparedness Costs At Informal Dinner Tonight

MAY RAISE THE DEBT

Washington, Nov. 29.—(AP)

Over cigars and coffee at the White House tonight, President Roosevelt and seven administration financial experts plan to discuss the advisability of seeking higher taxes and lower non-military appropriations to help finance the national preparedness program.

Invitations to the informal dinner and the equally informal discussion to follow went to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Assistant Secretary Sullivan, Budget Director Smith, Senators Harrison (D-Miss) and George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee, and Representatives Doughton (R-NC) and Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the house ways and means committee.

Harrison and Doughton are chairmen of the congressional committees that handle revenue legislation.

President Roosevelt and his fiscal advisers seemed in agreement that non-military budget items must be cut to the bone. In addition, they may raise the debt.

DEMONSTRATION IN MEXICO CITY

Mexico City, Nov. 29.—(AP)

—A pro-Alamazan demonstration before the United States embassy last night which police ended with tear gas after stones had been hurled and two attaches cuffed marked a stormy beginning for the visit of U. S. Vice President-elect Henry A. Wallace.

"Viva Alamazan—Do. . . with Wallace" a crowd of 150 to 200 shouted when the latter arrived here to represent the United States at the inauguration of President-elect General Manuel Avila Camacho Sunday.

The demonstrators, disgruntled by the appointment of Wallace, were about 50 miles west of Mexico City.

REIGN OF TERROR IN RUMANIA

Berlin and Bucharest Military Force Is Clamped Down to Quell Iron Guard Uprising Feared As Result of New Incitement for the Green Shirt Extremists Who Have Taken More Than 64 Lives in Past Three Days

LOOK FOR TROUBLE AT GREAT PUBLIC FUNERAL

Bucharest, Nov. 29.—(AP)—With German and Rumanian military force clamped down to quell an Iron Guard reign of terror Rumania faced possible danger today of new incitement for the Green Shirt extremists who have taken more than 64 lives in the past three days.

Tomorrow will be the second anniversary of the slaying of Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, founder of the Iron Guard and the "martyr" whose death its blood purge was to avenge.

The German government has sent Baldur von Schirach, Nazi governor of Austria, and Ernst Wilhelm Bohle, chief of the "German abroad" department of the foreign office, to attend a great public funeral for the Iron Guard hero tomorrow.

From the Hungarian border, meanwhile, it was reported that three Rumanian army divisions—two more than reported from Bucharest—had been rushed into the Rumanian capital to join the German troops in guarding against a possible Iron Guard uprising.

HUNDREDS ARE KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH IN ORIENT

Shanghai, Nov. 29.—(AP)

—Five coaches of a Shanghai-Nanking train were blasted from the tracks today and between 100 and 400 persons killed or injured as the toll of a dynamite mine reported and by Chinese guerrillas to spoil the impending ceremonial signing of a Japanese-sponsored treaty at Nanking.

One report said that passengers on the train included Japanese and Chinese officials bound for Nanking to participate in the signing tomorrow of a pact of recognition and collaboration between Japan and the puppet government of the Wang Ching-Wei Chinese government.

It also was considered possible that foreigners were aboard the train including American newspapermen en route to Wang's capital for the treaty ceremonies.

However, Japanese military authorities who directed operation of the line denied that either officials or newspapermen were aboard.

The accident occurred at Soochow, about 50 miles west of Shanghai.

ITALIAN POSITION SERIOUS

Fierce Bombardment of Italy's Sea Gateways Into Albania and Rout of Mussolini's Destroyers Shelling Now British-Defended Greek Island of Corfu Claimed By London May Mean Start of Giant Offensive

"CHOICEST REGIMENT" REPORTED BUSTED

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Wire Analysts. The report from London that the British have begun a general offensive against Italy, as the weak partner in the Axis, will signal a momentous development if it proves to be true. Such an offensive would be the logical outgrowth of the Italian debacle in Greece. Indeed, the general Italian position is such as to cry out for an English attack, since, apart from the Greek setback the British blockade has developed marked weaknesses in the fascist setup. Not only is Italy suffering a great shortage in foodstuffs and raw materials for manufacture, but her communications with her overseas forces are largely severed.

This is the chosen moment, granted by the gods for England to strike and try to eliminate Mussolini from the conflict.

Athens, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Fierce bombardment of Italy's sea gateways into Albania and a rout of Italian destroyers bombarding the now British-defended Greek island of Corfu were reported today by the British Royal Air Force.

Santa Claus to Be On Hand for Opening of Toyland Annex in Warren Stores Tonight

Toyland Annex is all ready for its opening in Warren stores this evening, and young citizens of the community will be treated to such a vision of joy as they have seldom seen.

According to word received by the Chamber of Commerce here, Santa Claus will be here without fail, although it is reported that it is not necessary for him to make the trip by sleigh in the old-fashioned way instead of by plane as previously planned.

It is because of the heavy snowfall in the Brooklyn area and the fact that I can write down the requests of the kiddies who visit Toyland tonight, Santa Claus said in a long-distance conversation.

It was announced today that because of the cold and snow, it may not be feasible to have music and dancing, for it is too cold for the kiddies and similar instruments would not operate properly. However, it was stated that the high school band will be on the job if it is at all possible.

Nevertheless, the merchants expect an invitation that is warm enough to make up for any possible lack of music. They were every-where to come and feast their eyes on the splendid display of latest Christmas merchandise.

The participating stores will be open for visitors at several o'clock. This includes Brown's Book Shop whose name was most remarkably and accurately omitted from the double page invitation issued by the Chamber of Commerce long ago sent orders for all sorts of toys to hold in reserve for Santa's instructions. It is a day evening.

It was hoped that there would be a big demand for the Merchandise Division of the Chamber of Commerce long ago sent orders for all sorts of toys to hold in reserve for Santa's instructions. It is a day evening.

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS ENTERTAINER TO BE BROUGHT HERE UNDER AUSPICES OF TIMES-MIRROR ALIAS SANTA CLAUS FUND

Residents of Warren and vicinity

are expected to get the thrill of their lives on Wednesday evening, December 11th, when Dr. Franz J. Polgar, internationally famous hypnotist and mental telepathy exponent, will be presented in the Warren High School auditorium under the auspices of the Times-Mirror Alias Santa Claus Fund.

Dr. Polgar's show is best described as entertaining, educational, nerve-ringing, breath-taking and one never to be forgotten.

Dr. Polgar was born in Budapest, Hungary. He studied at the University of Budapest and served his country in the World War as a first lieutenant. During one of the battles he lay buried alive for three days.

He spent the next six months in a hospital, a victim of amnesia and aphasia. He lost his memory and could neither speak nor write.

On recovering he found himself gifted with a miraculous power of mental telepathy and now he can obey any mental command you may think of.

Dr. Polgar has astounded the medical and scientific bodies in Europe. He worked at the Budapest Polyclinic in the Psychiatric and surgical departments as a hypnotist and has aided the Hungarian secret service in criminal and detective work.

His greatest desire is to convince the skeptical who do not believe in mental telepathy.

Warrentes who attend his performance on December 11 can expect one of the greatest and most revealing evenings of their lives.

To witness his show is to see something never to be forgotten. That has been the experience of thousands in other cities and the one thing which prompts the Times-Mirror to bring Dr. Polgar to Warren.

The Times-Mirror is hopeful of jamming the high school auditorium to capacity because all proceeds above actual expenses will go to the Alias Santa Claus Fund which provides cheer at Christmas time for those who otherwise might be forgotten.

To go into detail as to what Dr. Polgar will do for his Warren audience would be to spoil the show. It can be said however that he will use persons from the audience when he actually performs his hypnotic power.

He will show conclusively to even the most skeptical that there is such a thing as mental telepathy. He has proven that to many times for anyone to believe otherwise. Recently Dr. Polgar appeared before a group of skeptical reporters and editors. He had invited them after 1.000 that they were really skeptical of his many feats.

While he was out of the room two of the editors decided what they would tell him mentally. He decided he should take off the vest of a man and place it upon the shoulders of a girl and the most skeptical of the group agreed to give him the sum of $100.00.

NAVY RECEIVES BIG QUOTA FOR COMING MONTH

Lieutenant Commander Eugene C. Burchett, Officer in charge of the Navy Recruiting District with headquarters in the Post Office Building, Buffalo, today announced the receipt of a quota of 180 first enlistments for the month of December for the Buffalo Navy Recruiting District.

Commander Burchett announced that men finally accepted would leave Buffalo for the Training Station at Newport, Rhode Island on Mondays and Fridays during the month of December. They will be enlisted each day of the week. The enthusiasm with which the "minority enlistment" has been received by those young men of 17 to 18 years of age is evidenced by the fact that 20 youths between 17 and 18 years of age have enlisted in Buffalo during the past nine days. It must be remembered, however, that these men are enlisted only with the consent of their parents or guardians, and serve until the day prior to their 21st birthday.

It was also announced that Yeoman First Class Gerald T. Milan, publicity director for the Buffalo Navy Recruiting District will again speak over radio station WKBW on Thursday, 5:30 to 5:45 p. m. in the interests of national defense at which time the topic of his talk will be "Loyalty".

Nazis Sightseers in London (En Route to Prison)

German soldiers are getting pretty used to bus travel. In bussee commanded by the German army, thousands of them have been taken on "strength-through-joy" tours of Paris and other Nazi-occupied areas of Europe. But (above) in London, the Nazis get another kind of bus ride. German aviators are seen en route to a concentration camp after their capture by the British.

Nazi Bombs Play Ironic Tricks on Britain

It is estimated that in 1939 for every person in the United States two and one-half quarts of motor fuel were consumed daily, the greatest consumption in the history of the oil industry.

At one time rubber came only from trees, not rubber compounds made from coal, limestone, and salt.

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS Entertainer to Be Brought Here

He came in and did it—and New York newspapers have been raving about his feats ever since.

Even Life magazine, and there is no more skeptical magazine on earth, gave him a six-page spread recently. He has appeared on the "We the People" program and is slated to do so again in the near future. Some months ago he was also on a popular cigarette program, solving a mythical crime before a large audience.

Everything the Times-Mirror says about Dr. Polgar is true. He is no fake, employs no tricks. Plan now to witness his single performance on the night of December 11. You'll see something that will remain with you always and at the same time you'll be helping along a good cause.

Tickets will go on sale Monday. The price will be 75 cents for everyone.

PLEASING TALK IS ENJOYED BY KIWANIS GROUP

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Warren Kiwanis Club, held Wednesday noon at the Y. W. C. A., the members enjoyed a very timely talk by the Rev. J. A. Davidson, of the First Baptist church.

Rev. Davidson's talk, in which he outlined some of his experiences during a tour of the Mediterranean countries and the Holy Land, emphasized the many things for which Americans have to be thankful which are not enjoyed in foreign lands.

Rumor Foundry

There is no need to mention names here... But a fellow who usually knows what he is talking about has just wired that one of the most successful coaches in the business is on his way out at a big Midwestern school... Also that a leading school in the Northwest right now is dickering for a very able line coach at a Midwestern college to become its head coach... Maybe it's all gossip, but the sports editors out that way can start checking, if they like.

Books Presented to the Warren Public Library in Memory of Freeman Hertz Gardening books predominated in the group of new memorial books presented to the public library in memory of Freeman Hertz. This collection of books now on display includes ten unusually attractive and useful volumes. Those which are not reference books will be released for circulation on December sixth.

The garden books in this group would appeal to the garden enthusiast who does much of his planning in winter weather. Recognizing Mr. Hertz's special interest in dahlias, the donor has presented Modern Dahlias, a book on their culture and exhibiting by J. Louis Roberts. For some time there has been an expressed need for a study of delphiniums in the library. George A. Phillips' Delphiniums is one of the best handbooks on the history and cultivation of this popular hardy perennial.

Those who are interested in raising their own seedlings should be helped by Charles H. Nissey's Starting Early Vegetables and Flowering Plants Under Glass. One of the most practical books on the art of rock gardening is James H. Bissland's Common Sense in the Rock Garden. And a book which is written with imagination and good judgment is Gardening in the Shade, by H. K. Morse.

There are two books which should certainly enlarge one's circle of plant acquaintances. Clarence J. Hylander in World of Plant Life introduces the reader to his outstanding personalities of the plant world in the United States, both the native and introduced varieties. The botanical authority, L. H. Bailey, gives the identification of the most common or significant species grown in our country in The Manual of Cultivated Plants. Bird-lovers will be delighted with W. E. Clyde Todd's Birds of Western Pennsylvania. For forty years the curator of ornithology at the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh has been amassing data on

Thanksgiving Holiday Observed In Quiet Manner By Warren Residents

With over a foot of snow as a holiday setting, Warren quietly observed a "white" Thanksgiving yesterday.

All business, except in plants engaged in war defense contracts, was suspended.

A large number of people attended the annual community services held in the morning at the Bethlehem Congregational church, under the auspices of the Warren County Ministerial Association.

Rev. John Bengtson, pastor, presided, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who took for his subject, "In Everything Give Thanks." The church choir was under the direction of Miss Alice Swanson. Rev. J. C. Wygant, of the First Evangelical church, read the scripture lesson, and prayer was offered by Rev. S. R. Schieb, of the Salem Evangelical church. The offering was given to the Warren Relief Association.

A number of other churches held Thanksgiving Day services.

Socially, the holiday was a very successful one for those attending the Thanksgiving Eve ball and the younger set's holiday dance, both held at the Woman's Club.

About 200 persons were in attendance Wednesday evening at the pre-holiday party given by

OLEAN MAN DIES IN AUTO CRASH IN FOREST CO.

Jacob Mlakar, 45, of Olean, N. Y., believed to have been residing in the vicinity of Mayburg, Forest county, was instantly killed about 9:45 a. m. Thursday when his light pickup truck collided with a south-bound E. & O. freight locomotive at the Pigeon crossing on the Marienville-General Kane highway in Forest county.

The crossing is located about six miles north of Marienville. The auto was traveling toward Kane and Corp. Paul H. Winger, of the state motor police at Clarion said he had been unable to determine whether Mlakar had been attempting to beat the train to the crossing or if the machine skidded on the ice and snow-covered road.

The impact as the truck struck the front of the locomotive threw

ONE AUTO CRASH IS REPORTED IN THIS VICINITY

Despite the heavy snowfall and the treacherous condition of streets and highways, only one accident was reported over the holiday.

Private J. R. Thompson, of the state motor police, investigated a crash which occurred near the Dugal Hill, between Pittsfield and Wrightsville, Wednesday afternoon when a wagon, driven by Forest C. Hazeltine, R. D. 1, was struck in the rear by a truck operated by Orville J. Haker, 825 Peach street, Erie. Haker stated he collided with the wagon while attempting to pass. Some damage was caused to the truck and the teamster received a wrenched back when he was thrown from the seat of the wagon.

The borough police department reported no accidents either yesterday or the evening before.

Snow which fell almost all night Wednesday covered the ground to a depth of over a foot yesterday morning and continued intermittently throughout the day. Snow flurries were prevalent today and more precipitation is forecast for the next 24 hours.

Borough and state employees were kept busy removing the accumulation of snow from crosswalks, streets and highways, and cinderling crews are still engaged on curves and intersections. Chains made their first appearance of the season.

Gilbert H. Sigworth, superintendent of the highway department, reported that twelve plows and five graders were in use throughout the day in keeping Warren county roads open, and similar activities were noted throughout the entire district. Many local people who had planned trips decided to forego their visits, although many motorists stated that driving was difficult only so far as visibility was concerned, during the intermittent snowfalls.

Two plows were sent into this district from Forest county to help clear the highways in the lower end of Warren county.

According to the National Safety Council, 19 per cent of all drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1938 were speeding.

Mlakar from the truck down the track about 20 feet. He died of a compound fracture of the skull. The truck was demolished.

Forest County Coroner Eugene Pifer, of Tionesta, said no inquest will be held. He said the body was removed to the Brown Funeral Home in Kane.

Texas Aggies Bow To Texas In One Of Year's Big Upsets

Suffer First Defeat In 20 Games And See Rose Bowl Bid Escape

New York, Nov. 29.—(P)—Up until yesterday, tomorrow was just the last weary day of the long and hazardous 1940 football season.

But wonders of wonders, the Texas Aggies went tumbling before a triumphant University of Texas eleven and now all the gold and glory of the post-season "bowl" games hinges on what happens in Saturday's final fling.

The surprising setback of the Aggies, 7-0, on a touchdown in the first minute of their game, cast the finely drawn plans of the various bowl committees into confusion and nothing will or can be decided until the remaining candidates clear their slates.

Texas A. and M.'s first defeat in 20 games apparently knocked

CONN FAVORITE IN CLASH WITH SAVOLD TONIGHT

New York, Nov. 29.—(P)—Provided Sweet William Conn doesn't get the idea he's a killer, he should walk out of Madison Square Garden tonight with a win over Lee Savold, the corn-belt belter, and a match sometime next summer with Joe Louis.

According to most of the experts—who have been wrong before—the Pittsburgh Pretty Boy figures to give Lee a season for as much as the 12 rounds as the fight lasts. But every once in a while Billy Boy gets the idea he must show the folks some fancy stuff, so he walks out and slugs with some fellow who can hit.

Savold is one of these. He has a pretty fair country left hand capable of making the birdies sing. So if Conn doesn't listen to worshipping Johnny Ray, his manager, and goes out there to fall away like Lee, he may wind up smack on the seat of his silk pants and away out of the "heavy sugar" a shot at the heavyweight championship should mean.

Conn is no super-dreadnaught yet, but he is showing signs of growing and will weigh in at 175 or slightly higher. He definitely is stronger than he has been since last winter.

In recent outings, particularly against Bob Pastor and Al McCoy, Billy has shown he can handle the big fellows like Savold.

Joe DiMaggio Starts Training Early

Golden Anniversary Of Army-Navy Game Tops Saturday Menu

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—(P)—The Army and Navy, wedded in gridiron competition 50 years ago, salute the golden anniversary of their magnificent rivalry tomorrow in Philadelphia's $4,000,000 Municipal Stadium.

The squads, each more than 40 strong, arrived at separate stations here last night and hastened into seclusion at suburban retreats.

And strangely enough, compared to Army and Navy games of yesteryears, there are almost "tickets to burn" for the classic, which will include for the first time a single playing field managers of the 4,000 Cadets and Middies arriving tomorrow.

Officials credited the accelerated national defense program with being responsible for a heavier-than-usual ticket return from Army and Navy personnel, tied to official duties.

Lieutenant-Commander Morris Gilmore of the Navy, said, however, "we expect the crowd to stack up with the other four games that have been played in the stadium—that is, about 102,000 people."

Army, in tip-top shape, is striving for its first major victory since it defeated the Middies in 1938.

But it must stop, as Capt. Wood pointed out, Fullback Sherwood Warner of Reading, Pa., "through the middle," and Halfback Bill Busk of Pasadena, Calif., "on end runs."

The Navy, favored to repeat its 10 to 0 victory of a year ago, must set its defenses to stop Wood's three triple-threaters—Sophomores Johnny Hatch of Fort Sill, Okla., and Hank Mazur of Lowell, Mass., and Junior Jere Maupin of Glendale, Calif. Wood indicated at least two would be in the game at all times.

BETTER BOWLING

By ANDY VARIPAPA
Famous Bowling Authority

5. The Backup Ball: Although the backup or comeback ball is used by many bowlers, I discourage its use. When thrown by a right-handed bowler, this ball breaks to the right in direct contrast to the hook. In this delivery the ball is rolled with the palm up, the thumb and the fingers underneath turned to the right. This causes an unnatural strain on the arm and body and therefore is a difficult delivery to control.

If a bowler uses this ball on his first shot he must aim toward the No. 2 pin instead of the No. 1-3 pocket. I have seen many a strike made by bowlers using the backup ball in this manner but as far as I am concerned it isn't the proper way to shoot.

Police gave an immediate verdict of suicide and assistant medical Examiner Raymond Miles corroborated the finding after investigation.

Livermore, the son of a Yankee farmer in West Acton, Mass., came out of New England to start the Wall Street early in the century. He first dived into finance while working for a Boston brokerage house, printing $3,12 on a $10 margin speculation—and found the taste so savory he quit his job rather than quit playing the market.

Working in bucket shops, where men bet on stocks as they bet on horses, he ran up his stake to $2,500 and came to New York in 1903. He made $250,000 on his first operation, played Anaconda Copper with everything he had, and came out of the 1907 "rich man's panic" with $3,000,000.

Doing in cotton, wheat, steel, anything that promised a profit, Livermore went broke three times in the next 15 years. Each time he merely borrowed more money and went back into the market.

In 1925 he announced he was quitting Wall Street but the game had too strong a grip upon him. And in 1931, he was bankrupt for the fourth time.

Once again he tried a comeback but never quite attained the heights of his previous ventures.

President Says He Might Fly In An Emergency

The president said he would look with disfavor on a sales tax to raise additional revenue for the defense program.

The statement was in response to a press conference question about his supper conference to-night with seven congressional and departmental fiscal advisers.

The chief executive said he had not heard of any talk that a sales tax might be considered in any new general tax bill in the session of congress starting in January.

When asked flatly whether he would look with favor on such a proposal he replied he would not.

Asked if a presidential flight might conceivably cover the continent, the president replied it might. Asked whether a navy flying boat might be at his disposal on his trip next week, he humorously evaded this one by saying he might use a stratosphere craft.

Although he had flown much in the World War days when he was assistant secretary of the navy, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters what they already knew, that the last time he flew was in 1932 when he traveled from Albany to Chicago to accept his first nomination to the presidency.

MASONRY BANNED IN PARTS OF NORWAY

Oslo, Norway, Nov. 29.—(AP—via Berlin)—Freemasonry was prohibited today in German-occupied Norway in a decree by Major Vidkun Quisling, Norwegian Nazi Fuehrer, which set penalties for members slow to quit and converted the order's headquarters into a museum.

Masons who had resigned before last April 9, when the Germans moved in, may have full standing in the national union party, it declared, but other former Masons must wait for three probationary years for admission to full standing.

Toppenish, Wash., Nov. 29.—(AP)—Leaking gas, set off by some mysterious spark, was blamed today for a devastating explosion and fire which killed at least eight persons yesterday in a warehouse-business building here.

Fire Chief Leo Henle said he was convinced a gas explosion was to blame.

Police gave an immediate verdict of suicide and assistant medical Examiner Raymond Miles corroborated the finding after investigation.

Livermore, the son of a Yankee farmer in West Acton, Mass., came out of New England to start the Wall Street early in the century. He first dived into finance while working for a Boston brokerage house, printing $3,12 on a $10 margin speculation—and found the taste so savory he quit his job rather than quit playing the market.

Working in bucket shops, where men bet on stocks as they bet on horses, he ran up his stake to $2,500 and came to New York in 1903. He made $250,000 on his first operation, played Anaconda Copper with everything he had, and came out of the 1907 "rich man's panic" with $3,000,000.

Doing in cotton, wheat, steel, anything that promised a profit, Livermore went broke three times in the next 15 years. Each time he merely borrowed more money and went back into the market.

In 1925 he announced he was quitting Wall Street but the game had too strong a grip upon him. And in 1931, he was bankrupt for the fourth time.

Once again he tried a comeback but never quite attained the heights of his previous ventures.

Italian Position Serious

and Elbasani (Elbasani), said a communiqué apparently covering action yesterday and last night.

(The Italian high command, reporting bombardment of several objectives on Corfu, which lies just off the junction of the Albanian and Greek frontiers in the Ionian Sea and southwest of Porto Edda, declared that the reaction to the "prolonged bombardment" was disorganized and ineffective.)

Shipping at Porto Edda was attacked and "bombs were seen to explode on wharves," said the RAF communiqué. At Durazzo, another Albanian port, and Elbasani, an island base, "all the bombs fell in the target areas, but the results were not observed due to weather conditions."

With the "choicest regiment" of the Italian army reported vanquished in a bitter fight on the southern front, Greeks said their forces were pressing deeper into Albania against air, sea and land resistance.

The Balkan situation, with troubled Rumania at its core, remained uneasy with German troops now in Bucharest in apparent support of Gen. Ion Antonescu's government.

Dies Pledges Cooperation to Administration and expressed confidence that an effective program can be worked out with the executive department.

Returning to the capital from his Texas home for a conference with President Roosevelt, dies said: "I feel confident that a program can be worked out with the executive department under which the work of combating fifth column activity can be avoided and duplication of efforts prevented."

"Insofar as I'm concerned, every effort will be made to establish such cooperation."

The White House conference, at which Dies said he imagined he would do "a lot of listening," was arranged to smooth out jurisdictional conflicts in the general campaign against foreign agents and disloyal Americans.

Dies reiterated "a very deep conviction" that the most effective weapon against subversive elements was "fearless exposure."

Duke To Bring Duchess To U. S.

plans call for a return trip starting December 14.

The duchess was advised to undergo the operation at Miami, where specialists can treat the infection which has been bothering her for months.

It will be the first time the duke has entered the United States since 1924, when as the Prince of Wales he received a tremendous reception. The duchess has not been in her native land since Edward abdicated the throne of England to marry her.

Higher Taxes To Be Considered At White House

tion, several of the Democratic revenue leaders in congress have come out for general increases in taxes to help, at least, balance the "normal" or domestic budget and possibly to take care of some of the increased outlays for defense.

Administration leaders have some hope of balancing the normal budget aside from defense, but no one in authority has ventured an opinion on how much, if any, of the emergency defense spending will be met by higher revenues. Hence, Secretary Morgenthau has favored raising the public debt limit from $49,000,000,000 to around $65,000,000,000 to take care of any new deficits.

German Ships Run Blockade

quements with the Mexican government last night. The Idarwald gave Vigo, Spain, as her destination and the Rhein said she was headed for Tenerife, in Spain's Canary Islands.

These ships were among four German trined unsuccessfully to dash to sea Nov. 15, turning back when they sighted warships offshore which they believed to be British.

There was speculation in connection with both today's sailing and that of two weeks ago that the ships might be planning to keep a rendezvous with German war vessels.

The Mexican gunboat Durango had orders to escort the vessels outside Mexican territorial waters.

Final naturalization papers are granted in the United States 90 days after application has been filed.

Reign of Terror in Rumania

predicted that the funeral might be taken as occasion for "total revenge" against the political enemies of the Green Shirts.

While thousands mourned anew the Iron Guard "martyr," a special court reopened the legal process by which Codreanu was sentenced to 10 years in prison before his death.

In contrast to the panoply of Codreanu's funeral, little groups of friends paid their respects to the bullet-pierced body of former Premier Nicolai Jorga, member of former King Carol's council, assassinated in the Iron Guard purge.

Friends said Jorga's will asked that no government official be allowed to attend his funeral rites and he was buried without demonstration in a graveyard on the edge of Bucharest.

Meanwhile, the official newspaper printed two appeals to Iron Guardists, asking them to be "wise and disciplined" and to emulate "the self-control of the monks."

Even in the blacked-out darkness before dawn today, thousands of Rumanians—men, women and children—waited in line for a chance to file past the sealed, green-draped coffins of Codreanu and the 13 lieutenants killed with him in Jilava prison Nov. 30, 1935, during the reign of banished King Carol II.

Other thousands already have passed through the church where a continuous Greek orthodox mass was being said.

The purge started when Guardists opened the common grave of their 14 heroes in Jilava prison Thursday to move the coffins here. They were said to have found the bodies decomposed by vitriol poured over them by their executioners.

BUSINESS SETS RECORD
Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—(P.)—Spurred by advances in industrial production, shipments and trade, business in the Pittsburgh district has set a new record, the University of Pittsburgh announced. The university's business index, soaring last week to 134.9 per cent of the 1912-25 average, was "appreciably" above the peak reached in November, 1939, the weekly report said.

Five cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train, northbound from Oil City to Buffalo, were derailed at 1:30 a. m. by a mile south of Irvine, yesterday evening, leaving about seven o'clock last evening.

Members of the train crew were not injured in the wreck.

The train, made up in Oil City and known as the oil run, left there at 1:30 a. m. and the derailment occurred about 6 a. m. The train was in charge of Conductor P. E. Moore, of Oil City, and Engineer Apps.

Cause of the derailment was not learned, although it is believed that it may have been caused by ice or snow in a switch.

Westbound Pennsylvania passenger train No. 8971, due to leave Warren at 8:17 p. m. last night, was held up until early this morning because of the derailment of a snow plow at Corry. Eastbound train No. 580 was re-routed by Oleen. Another snowplow was off the track near Sheffield, it was reported.

A local freight train on the D. A. V. & P. division of the New York Central Railroad, enroute from Dunkirk to Titusville with about six cars, was stalled in Warren about midnight Wednesday by the heavy snow.

The train was proceeding at a slow rate of speed on the curve from East street to Fourth avenue when it suddenly came to a halt with the nose of the locomotive buried in a deep drift.

Efforts to get the train in motion resulted only in the wheels spinning on the rails. The engine crew tried to back up and get a head start, but finally had to uncouple the cars and force the engine several hundred feet down the track alone to clear the snow before it could pull the cars through.

MERCER COUNTY GIRL IS SHOTGUN VICTIM

Mercer, Nov. 29.—(P.)—A blast from a shotgun killed 12-year-old Vivian Gawnie as she sat at the dining room table in her home here, eating Thanksgiving day dinner.

The shotgun discharged while her brother was cleaning it in an adjoining room. The boy, just returned from a hunting trip, said he believed the gun was unloaded.
